TERMS OF USE

© MissEHoney and Pick Up and Go Resources. All rights reserved.

This pixel art template by Pick Up and Go Resources is available for both personal and commercial use by the purchaser. The purchaser may edit the cosmetic appearance of the spreadsheet, including brand colours, fonts, and the size of the columns and rows. However, to be eligible for sale, substantial modifications must be made, such as replacing the current question and answer placeholders with educational questions and answers.

The purchaser must not sell the template in its original state, and they cannot offer the template or any product created from it for commercial use by a third party. Sharing of the template or the derived product in public or private groups, such as Facebook groups, or including it as part of any course, membership, workshop, or other offer is strictly prohibited. The formulas, format, pixel art image, or the template itself must not be reused or repurposed for another product or activity. To use this product, the purchaser must provide attribution to Pick Up and Go Resources and link back to the store. Despite these conditions, the purchaser may use this product for personal use.
